

Epiblast

The image displays a scatter plot of numerous points arranged in a horizontal, elongated shape. The points are colored according to a gradient: the leftmost points are dark blue, transitioning through green and yellow to orange and red on the right. The label 'Epiblast' is positioned on the left side of the plot, and 'NE' is on the right. The points are more densely packed on the left and become sparser towards the right. There are a few isolated points below the main cluster.
