

Epiblast

The diagram illustrates a biological structure composed of two main cell clusters. On the left, a grey, irregularly shaped mass is labeled 'Epiblast'. To its right, a larger, elongated cluster of cells is shown, transitioning from light orange on the left to dark orange on the right. This second cluster is labeled 'NE' at its rightmost tip. The overall shape is somewhat horizontal and elongated, with a few scattered cells below the main clusters.

NE