

Epiblast

The diagram illustrates a biological structure composed of two main cell clusters. On the left is a grey, irregularly shaped mass labeled 'Epiblast'. To its right is a larger, elongated cluster of cells colored in a gradient of orange, from light to dark. This orange cluster is labeled 'NE' at its rightmost tip. The two clusters are connected by a narrow bridge of cells. A few individual cells are scattered below the main bridge.

NE